

Enrique Garcia

Missionary and Director of Spanish-Speaking Ministries

Enrique was born and raised in Mazatlán, Mexico. He moved to Tucson shortly after giving his life to Christ in 2007 at 23 years of age. He earned a bachelor's degree in communications studies from the Western Institute of Technology and Higher Education in Guadalajara, Mexico.

He completed a 6-month missionary internship with Corazón Ministries in the summer of 2012. He has been serving as a missionary since January 2013.

Enrique serves as the Director of Spanish-speaking Ministries. He develops relationships with Spanish-speaking pastors around the city and offers trainings to equip and edify the body of Christ. He also interprets teachings and workshops for the Spanish-speaking community. Enrique is also the director of "Hearts on Fire," a ministry which equips and trains high school students in missions, evangelism, discipleship, and ministry life.

Enrique's passion is to share the gospel through evangelistic bible studies and the building of meaningful relationships with friends and acquaintances. He helps believers to grow in their faith through discipleship and Biblical teachings. He loves seeing how God brings unity in the body of Christ by breaking cultural and denominational barriers. He enjoys equipping the church in evangelism and Christian apologetics.

He has been married to his wife Lorena since 2013. They have three beautiful children: Juliana, Evan and Elena.
